THE RIGHT TALK.

(From the Kewanee Star-Courier.)

Sound sense marks the utterances of Chairman Will H. Hays of the Republican national committee in all his addresses and interviews. In every way possible he has pledged the party to uncompromising support of the war and has exercised his influence steadily to the end that minor differences be not allowed to develop into causes of friction that might impede the one big work of the country.

The Republican party can never be accused either in current comment or in the pages of historical review of having been an obstructionist party in the days of the great war. It has bent its back to the load and cheerfully gone ahead bearing its full share of the burden, regardless of whether it was invited to counsel or not. Mr. Hays, in his Nebraska speech, refers to the right of participation and the failure of the party in power to grant it, but he adds that the patriotic devotion of the Republican party is not abated one tittle thereby. Its loyalty and patriotism are taken for granted.

We have been requested to give a few facts regarding the tolling of the court house bell when news has been received of the death of one of our own boys on the battle field or in the cantonments. The Mothers' Association of this city has endorsed and asked the tolling of the bell on receipt of such news as a mark of respect to the dead and as a token of the sympathy of all our people for the family of the departed hero whose death occurs while in the service of his country. The society is composed of mothers who have sons in the service and their wishes should be respected by every loyal citizen. That nervous people and those who have no relatives in the army or navy should avoid being shocked—they should remember that the family most directly interested have been notified of their bereavement before the bell is tolled. That the tolling of the court house bell Thursday was at the request of the family of the young soldier.

We are in a state of war and our people should realize that when select men leave their homes it is not to attend a picnic, but to a camp where they will be trained for work on the battle fields. They offer their all to their country and when the Mothers' Association asks that this slight tribute be offered the memory of their boys why should any person object? The mothers bear the brunt of the hardships and worry here at home day after day. Respect their wishes—it is as little as we can do.

RIPPLING RHYMS

THE KAISER
The Kaiser makes me wear old duds, and drink the cheaper grades of suds, and smoke punk torches that, affre, taste like a shoe or rubber tire. Oh, once I always bought the best; I had an ample treasure chest; I drew on Cuba for cheroots, and sent to Lunn for my boots; a Paris triumph was my hat; the Kaiser put a stop to that. I buy my things in pawnshops now; a battered derby shades my brow; a suit of mohair drapes my frame—the hanged old war lord is to blame. I used to scan the bill of fare and choose the richest viands there; a big planked steak was just my size, topped off with divers kinds of pies. Now to a chophouse I repair, and eat the cheapest victuals there; they will not let me have a steak, they have no flour to make a cake, they dole out sugar with a spoon, and cut in halves the luscious prune. The Kaiser's hand is everywhere; it even grips the bill of fare. The Kaiser's landed on our shore, his shadow darkens every door. Your every care and every ill you may charge up to Kaiser Bill. And he'll overshadow every heart until we wipe him off the chart; all other chores we must eschew until that mighty task's put through.

THIS DATE IN HISTORY

August 10—Alton, Ill. Strike among the Alton employees of the St. L. & C. R. R. No freight cars have run out for 24 hours and no passenger trains were permitted to leave up to 11 a. m. The strike was commenced just as one month's pay was about to be made and another in two or three days. The president of the road proposed by telegraph to make three months' payment within the next 26 days if the men would instantly go to work. But they refused unless four months' pay is made.

KEEP THE PRESENT CITY GOVERNMENT PLAN

Those who heard Mr. Hairgrove in the informal talk before the Rotary club yesterday discussing the merits of the aldermanic form of government vs. the commission form, had the point again brought out that about the only real argument against the commission form is the large amount paid in salaries. Under the old aldermanic form the aldermen and mayor of Jacksonville drew together yearly in salaries about $2,400, whereas the mayor and commissioners under the commission form draw annually about $8800.

Unless it can be shown that the commission form resulted in saving of other salaries, the argument is hard to combat that $8800 is too large a sum for this city to pay administrative officers. So the proposition gets back to the point that what this city now needs is a set of officials who, animated by patriotic spirit, will serve for a period of years at merely nominal salaries. Under the aldermanic form the mayor and aldermen practically served as directors of city affairs and employed the various heads of departments.

Some friends of the aldermanic form have argued that return to that type of government should be made at this time to accomplish this very thing of providing administrative or directing officers for the city serving at the small salaries which the aldermen would draw. It is worth repeating that to bring this to pass it is not necessary to change the form of city government. It will be easier to find five men who are willing to serve as mayor and commissioners at very small salaries and delegate the actual work of city business to other men, than it will be to find eight aldermen and a mayor who are willing to undertake positions under the aldermanic form with than end in view.

You may say that "the laborer is worthy of his hire" and that men who are willing to conduct the business of the city should be paid for their services and so well paid that they will drop all other interests and attend to city business. It is said to be a weakness of the commission form in a city of this size that it is hardly possible to select men who by training or experience are especially qualified to actively administer the affairs of the different departments. In other words, if the management of a corporation were seeking one man to look after its financial affairs and another man to direct its mechanical operations, it could not expect to get the best results by electing men for these positions. Instead they would choose men qualified by schooling or by practical experience for the work that they were expected to perform. Acknowledging that this weakness exists in the commission form as applied to a city of this size, that very defect can be overcome by electing five qualified business men as commissioners, paying them merely nominal salaries and having them select the administrative heads of departments, who are to serve on a salary basis.

Friends of the aldermanic form of government freely admit that it is not to be expected that men superior to those now serving can be elected either by the aldermanic form plan or the commission form.

There are difficulties, no doubt, in getting men to volunteer for service of this kind. It is granted that some men who might volunteer to serve the city without pay would not be thoroughly qualified or they might have some selfish motive for offering their services. But why should not a body of citizens get together—a mass meeting if you please—agree upon a group of men of acknowledged standing, qualified to serve as city officials and then draft them for this service.

These are the days when many business men are giving their time unsparingly to public enterprise for patriotic reasons. Sometimes they enter the service willingly, at other times they respond to the demand of their fellow citizens. They are really drafted for service. Why not draft four commissioners and a mayor to serve Jacksonville after next May for the next few years without pay? After the present critical financial period has been passed thru some other plan may be tried and the mayor and commissioners paid in the usual way.

A Costly Smoke.
A well known citizen of this county who, for obvious reasons wishes his name withheld, had finished stacking fifteen acres of fairly good oats. He was walking about the stacks contemplating them and decided to have a smoke on the way back to the house. Accordingly he pulled out his pipe, struck a match, threw down the match and left for the house. Imagine his astonishment and various other emotions when he looked back and saw that the match he threw down had set fire to the oats stacks and nothing could be done to save them.

American Overseas Army and Marine Casualties

Washington, Aug. 9.—Names of 363 officers and men missing in action were contained in five army lists aggregating 485, made public today by the war department. A marine corps casualty list brought the total to 530.

Nearly one-half of the army men named were from Pennsylvania. There were 225 from that state, with 74 from Philadelphia alone. Others were from Scranton, Allentown, York, Somerset, Berlin, Pittsburgh and other Pennsylvania cities. There was nothing to indicate to what branch of the service they belonged.

The number of missing in action was the largest announced in any single day since the casualties from the fighting on the Marne-Aisne front began arriving last Monday. There were four officers, a captain and three lieutenants, and a large number of non-commissioned officers on the list.

A recapitulation of the six lists shows:

CORN DAMAGE NOT FULLY DETERMINED

Late Fields Suffer Most From Severe Heat—Chinch Bugs Bad In Macoupin County.

While it is generally admitted that the extremely hot weather of recent days has damaged the corn crop to some extent in this locality the county is at any rate more fortunate than Macoupin, where chinch bugs have been found in great number and constitute an acute menace to crops. The exact amount of damage done corn in this county cannot yet be estimated. It is probable that the greatest injury has been done to corn that was planted late, for in some cases this corn was just in the stage of development when the pollarding process would be severely interrupted by the heat.

In fields planted earlier where the corn had really formed, it is not likely that much damage was done. It is hoped too, that in the ease of the late planted corn that after rains have come the damage will not be found to be as great as was thought to be the case. It in fact often happens that in times of drought corn damage appears greater than the real facts justify.

Chinch Bugs Do Damage.
Speaking of the bad chinch bug conditions in Macoupin county, the Carlinville Enquirer has the following:
"Assistant State Entomologist Flint, of Champaign, was in Macoupin county the past week and examined several fields in various portions of the county in search of any insect menace to different crops. He reported that in a field near Glenview, he found chinch bugs as numerous as they were a few years ago, when they created such havoc with the growing crops. The continued dry weather that we are having is very conducive to their culture, and if it continues it is a very poor outlook for next season's crops. The grasshoppers also in certain communities are laying the meadows bare and in some instances are stripping the growing corn. It is to be hoped that means will be found to check these pests, as in these war times it is necessary all food crops should yield the maximum limit, and producers who are suffering or threatened should use every means in their power to reduce this menace to the minimum."

G. V. BLACK MEMORIAL UNVEILED IN CHICAGO

Imposing Ceremonial at Lincoln Park Preceded by Auditorium Meeting—Exhibit at the Hotel Rooms.

Dr. Carl E. Black has returned from Chicago, where he went to be present at the unveiling of the memorial statue erected in Lincoln park in honor of his father, Dr. Greene Vardiman Black. Members of Dr. Black's family drove from Jacksonville to Chicago for the ceremony.

The American Dental Association is meeting in Chicago this week and the unveiling program occupied one afternoon of the convention program. The principal general assembly was held at the auditorium where an oration was delivered by Dr. Thornton of McGill university. From the Auditorium adjournment was taken to Lincoln park for the unveiling of the monument, which is of granite and bronze. It is located at a point about 300 feet west of the Lincoln statue and directly east of the Plaza hotel.

Memorial Presented.

The memorial was presented to commissioners of Lincoln park by Dr. Brophy, dean of the Rush Dental college, speaking in behalf of the American Dental association, and the monument was received by a member of the park commission. Then followed an address by Dr. Thomas L. Gilmer, dean of Northwestern Dental school, who gave recollections of his personal relationship with Dr. Black. Thirty many years and Dr. Gilmer spoke in a most interesting and interesting way. Subsequently there were other brief and informal addresses. A very conspicuous feature of the plan for honoring Dr. Black's memory was found in the museum arranged in three rooms at the Auditorium hotel by Dr. William Bebb. He is a specialist in dental work and the exhibit he has planned, which will be placed on view permanently, at Northwestern university, is attracting a great deal of attention.

Offices Reproduced.

The offices Dr. Black had in this city many years ago are perfectly reproduced. The equipment he used then is on view, together with various engines he invented in the development of dental equipment. In another room all the manuscripts that Dr. Black penned thru the years, together with the magazines or the books in which they were printed, are on view. In another room there are four large display cases containing the diplomas and other evidences of honor shown him by the dental profession. There are also numerous watches, boxes, pieces of gold and silver plate and gifts of various types presented from Dr. Black in his lifetime in evidence of the appreciation of his fellow workers.

The whole exhibit is most comprehensively planned and has been arranged in a way to well show the development of the great dentist's work, from the days of his early manhood, thru the years of ripened experience and research.

Exhibit Rooms Thronged.

In addition there are some personal touches in the exhibit, for there are some pictures which show Dr. Black on vacation jaunts and there are various articles of personal apparel and use that he owned. Altogether the exhibit, as indicated, is one of especial interest. That the delegates to the convention appreciated the exhibit is proven by the fact that the rooms have been thronged all thru the convention, which has been in progress for several days the present week.

MISS LUCY MOUNT IN GOVERNMENT SERVICE

The Government Will Have the Services of a Highly Accomplished Nurse and Lady as Well.

Jacksonville has lost, at least for a time, one of the most accomplished nurses and capable ladies it ever possessed in the departure of Miss Lucy Mount in answer to a summons from Washington.

Some time since she announced readiness to be of service but for a while she seemed to be of a greater benefit here as she was on the Red Cross Nurses' Committee for Southern Illinois and was charged with the duty of securing young ladies to become candidates for service in the hospitals but as she had seemed to get about all the available material she has been summoned to Washington tho it is not definitely known exactly what her duties will be but if she is properly appreciated she will be placed in a very important position.

Miss Mount was one of a class of two, the first to graduate from the nurses' training school at Passavant hospital. She entered on her work at once as registered nurse and for fifteen years she has been associated with Dr. C. E. Black as surgical nurse and assistant. She also belonged to the local and state organizations of nurses.

In addition to being an accomplished nurse Miss Mount possesses a character and manner which render her to all with whom she comes in contact. She is kindly and pleasant with every one and at the same time thoroughly capable and unflinching in the performance of duty. Her executive ability is well known and she has traits and accomplishments that will make her very valuable wherever she may be placed.

William Boland while working at the Jenkinson-Bode building Friday morning about 11:30 o'clock received painful injuries about the head and face by being struck with a large timber.

Boland is a member of the force of men in the employ of Joseph DeGoveia, the contractor. Yesterday morning he was assisting in taking down some large timbers. One struck a board and bounded off striking Boland on the right jaw.

The force threw him back and his head struck the corner of the brick wall making a bad contusion. He also received painful cuts on the jaw and chin.

COULDN'T SLEEP; APPETITE GONE

Nervous and Restless, and Kept Getting Worse, Says Arkansas Lady. Cardui Brought Relief.

Marmaduke, Ark.—Mrs. Mary E. Hill, near this place, writes: "I was in a very wretched state of health. I would be in bed two or three weeks at a time . . . and would have fainting spells. I was so weak and, Oh! how my back hurt me. I was so nervous and restless I couldn't sleep—didn't have any appetite and kept getting worse. Every one was so uneasy about me.

I cannot exactly describe two awful spells I had . . . I had a shortness of breath and would smother at night. I couldn't move or cry out. I felt like I would die. My limbs would get numb and feel very uncomfortable. We used many medicines, and I didn't get better.

I had read of Cardui in the Birthday Almanac and had often heard that it was a good medicine. I began to take it according to directions and began to improve. I soon was strong and able to do my work. I cannot praise Cardui enough. I have every reason to believe that it saved my life."

Tested and proven in every way by many women, over a period of more than 40 years, Cardui has attained its present high standing and popularity because of the satisfactory results secured from its use.

If you are weak and run-down, and need a good, reliable, tonic medicine try Cardui. All druggists.

"On Sept. 5, 1916, I had a chemical analysis made of my urine in a Chicago laboratory and found that I was in the beginning of serious kidney trouble. Had treated with other doctors with no benefits. Have taken treatment from Dr. C. W. Carson, the Chicago Specialist, and for months the chemical analyses have shown no kidney trouble whatever, and my kidneys and general condition have improved wonderfully. Catarrh is a Real Enemy and Requires Vigorous Treatment

Throw these makeshift remedies to the winds and get on the right treatment. Go to your drug store today, get a bottle of S. S. S., and commence a treatment that has been praised by sufferers for nearly half a century.

S. S. S. gets right at the source of Catarrh, and forces from the blood the germs which cause the disease. You can obtain special medical advice regarding your own case without charge by writing to Medical Director, 22 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

He Removed the Danger Signal

Frank W. Sherman, Laconia, N. Y., writes: "I suffered with kidney trouble, had a tired feeling in my back, did not have any ambition and felt all tired out. I used Foley Kidney Pills and in a few days began to feel better, and now I have entirely recovered and have had no return of my painful symptoms."

One cannot help becoming nervous and feeling tired and worn out when the kidneys fail to filter and throw out of the system the poisonous waste matter that causes kidney troubles and bladder ailments.

Backache is one of Nature's danger signals that the kidneys are clogged up and inactive. It is often followed by rheumatism, annoying bladder or urinary disorders, puffy swellings under the eyes, swollen ankles and painful joints.

Foley Kidney Pills get right at the source of trouble. They invigorate the kidneys to healthy action and when the kidneys properly perform their functions the poisonous matter is eliminated from the system.

BAXTERS HOME FROM ENJOYABLE TRIP

Visited Cities in Northern Part of State—Trip Made by Automobile.

Dr. George E. Baxter, wife and little son returned yesterday from a two weeks' auto trip thru the north part of the state and into Chicago.

They left Jacksonville July 18th, going by way of Bloomington and following the Burlington Trail north. They spent ten days in Chicago, visiting the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, Ft. Sheridan, the many parks and other places of interest.

While in that city they visited Dr. L. W. Donovan, who was formerly a Jacksonville resident and is now practicing medicine in Chicago. At the Great Lakes station they visited Clyde Black, who is there in the service.

On the return trip they followed the Egyptian Trail, coming by the way of Rantoul, where they visited the aviation field, seeing the aeroplanes and watching the aviators fly. They also made stops at Tuscola and Decatur on the return trip. The roads were very dusty on the trip home, but they encountered some muddy roads on the way to Chicago.

SIGNAL SCHOOL HELD FLAG CEREMONY

Was Planned as Farewell for John Martin—School Service Flag Contains Fourteen Stars.

A short service flag ceremony was held last evening in the Chamber of Commerce rooms by the Signal school, which also was a farewell to John Martin, one of the members of the school, who left yesterday morning for Jefferson Barracks. Unfortunately Mr. Martin was unable to attend, as he received notice to leave Friday morning, instead of this morning as he had expected to.

During the evening talks were made by Major McDougall, Supt. H. A. Perrin, William J. Moore, Davis Martin, Ed. Wackerle and Phil Heneghan. At this time four more stars were fastened on the service flag to represent Roy Long, John Mandeville, Perrin Moore and John Martin, members of the school, who are now in the service. This makes a total of fourteen stars on the flag, representing that many members of the school in the service.

The stars were fastened to the flag by Rev. Davis Martin, a brother of John Martin, who left yesterday morning. Mr. Martin who is a Y. M. C. A. worker and minister in New York spoke of the close co-operation of the many churches with the government work. He told of Yale University, where he was a student, that the total enrollment is usually about 4,000 men; however, this year there were only 800 men in attendance.

Since the enlistment of so many of the students it is hoped that many more persons will be interested in the work of the school and enroll as members. Since the raising of the draft age it is thought, perhaps, there will be many persons above the draft age take interest in the work and attend the school.

Mrs. Helen McDougall James One of Committee of Three Appointed to Revise Braille Music—Is Well Known Instructor of the Blind.

Mrs. Helen McDougall James, Director of Music in the Illinois School for the Blind, has been chosen by the National Association of Educators of the Blind as one of a committee of three to revise and improve the system of Braille Music.

Mrs. James will be assisted in this work by Professor Gardner of Boston, and Miss Carmin of Indianapolis.

The work of revising the system of teaching Braille music to the blind is a tremendous task which, no doubt, will require the thought and energy of this committee for at least one year.

The National Association is of the opinion that it is fortunate enough to have on this committee three most capable musicians to revise and improve the Braille system.

Mrs. James has taught and directed in the School for the Blind here for a number of years where her efficiency has been recognized. Educators of the blind in Illinois are very much gratified with the appointment of Mrs.

DISTRICT GOVERNOR VISITS ROTARIANS

A. STANLEY BROWN OF JOLIET ON TOUR OF STATE ORGANIZATIONS.

In an Informal Talk Visitor Impressed Rotary Purposes—W. N. Hairgrove Made Interesting Defense of Aldermanic Municipal Government Plan.

A. Stanley Brown of Joliet, district governor of Rotary clubs, was a visitor in Jacksonville Friday and a guest at the Rotary club luncheon at the Pacific hotel. Mr. Brown's district includes the state of Illinois, there being twenty-four cities with Rotary club organizations. W. N. Hairgrove had been invited to be present for the meeting to present the question of return to the aldermanic form of government from the affirmative point of view. Both speakers were heard with a great deal of interest.

Mr. Brown is now visiting all of the Rotary organizations in the state, including Chicago, Rock Island, Moline, Kewanee, Galesburg, Monmouth, Quincy, East St. Louis, Harrisburg, Champaign, Decatur, Danville, Rockford, Springfield, Kankakee, Waukegan, Peoria and Jacksonville. Mr. Brown recently attended the international Rotary convention in Kansas City, where 5,000 delegates were present to represent the membership of 44,000. In addition to the delegates from the U. S. there were representatives from Canada, England and Ireland. It was evidently Mr. Brown's purpose to impress upon the members of the local organization that Rotary means service and that the motto "He profits most who serves best," must literally be followed if each organization in any way measures up to its purpose.

Not for Business Profit.

He said that a member of a Rotary club who expected to profit personally in a business way would certainly be disappointed, and that members of the Rotary club get out of the organization to a very large extent, just whatever they put in of unselfish service. In Rotary ideals are not mere dreams or aspirations. They are working models for the member's daily life, in respect to his own conduct and relation with others. So the ideals of Rotary cover all phases of business morality, as well as the whole range of the various elements which enter into what is called service.

In his remarks about the aldermanic form of government by comparison with the commission form, Mr. Hairgrove's main argument was that the city is now paying out in salaries more than is returned in service. He compared the salary of mayor and aldermen under the old form, when the mayor received $1200 and the aldermen $3 each, per meeting, with the salary of $2,000 paid to mayor and $1,700 each paid to commissioners under the present form. The speaker said that when the proposal was made to change from the aldermanic form to the commission form of government, that he voted for the change. He said, however, that he had been disappointed in the results and now believed that he was mistaken in his earlier position and that the city would be far better off under the aldermanic form.

The Ward Plan.
He maintained that the commission form of city government is not truly representative because the members of the council are all elected at large instead of by wards or districts. It was his declaration that if the people of the ward had aldermen in a city council directly representing them, that they could get much more of service for their wards than is now true. He said that the resident who had a complaint or request to make from the city council under the commission form was referred from one department to another and could not get the quick or accurate results that are possible under the aldermanic system.

The speaker took the view that mayor and councilmen under the commission form are practically taking only the places of the mayor and aldermen under the aldermanic form, and that while they head different departments, that the number of city employees remains about the same. His argument was, therefore, that as a matter of fact, the people direct representation that there should be a return to the aldermanic form. He explained that such a return would not mean the same number of aldermen the city previously had but would require a mayor and two aldermen from each ward.

The Recall.
Under the general law four of the aldermen go out of office each year and Mr. Hairgrove's contention was that with such frequent shifting about of aldermen that no successful political machine could be built up. He maintained that while the commission form law provides that an officer may be recalled, that this section is really non-operative because petition signed by 55 per cent of the voters is necessary and, furthermore, a member of the commission against whom a recall petition is circulated may resign if he so chooses. Then his associates in office have the right to choose his successor and Mr. Hairgrove's contention was that members of a council under the commission form really can in this way perpetuate themselves or their families in office, even should the people desire to recall them.

If the recall petition is circulated and a commissioner resigns and if the council appoints some man in place of the resigned official, the last named commissioner cannot be removed from office until after he has served one year's time.

At the conclusion of Mr. Hairgrove's remarks there was some general discussion and the opportunity was given for asking questions. Mr. Brown, who was present as a Rotarian governor, offered the comment that Joliet would not think of returning to the aldermanic form for the result of the commission form there have been highly satisfactory. He said that before the change was made that Joliet was a wet and wicked city. He said that it is still wet and wicked but not nearly to the extent that was true in the aldermanic government days.

Several of those present in the general discussion emphasized the thought that, after all, a good municipal government is a question of men rather than methods and that results can be made just as satisfactory thru one form of government as another.

LYNNVILLE TROUBLE AGAIN IN COURT

Altercation Between Young Men at Dance Occupied the Attention of Justice Opperman All Day Friday—Jury Unable to Agree.

Friday Justice Opperman heard the case of the people against James Begnel, Louis Begnel, James O'Connell, Thomas Begnel, Edward Riley and Thomas O'Connell charged with assault and battery. The complaining witness was William Flynn who claimed the defendants attacked him when he was engaged in fighting a man named McGraw.

The case was called before Justice Dyer and a change of venue was taken to Justice Opperman. The latter found his office too small to accommodate the crowd and adjourned to the circuit court room.

The entire country adjacent to Lynnville seemed to be interested and in addition to the large array of witnesses there was a large number of spectators. The case was heard by a jury composed of W. A. Bancroft, A. R. Eyre, J. L. Wilder, William Suby, Jr., Alva McDonald and James R. Ratliff.

The state was represented by State's Attorney Robinson assisted by Walter W. Wright while the defendants were represented by Wilson and Butler.

The following witnesses were examined for the state, W. R. Flynn, Dr. E. D. Canatsey, Della Flynn, S. Elliott, Samuel Dolan, Russell McCarthy, Ray Gibbs, John Quinn and Charles Flynn. The witnesses for the defendants were: Freda Maska, Bessie Watt, Mike McGrath, Denby Ranson, Joe Fitzpatrick, Alva Coates, Clyde Sturdy, Dan Waterfield, Clarence German, Thomas O'Connell, Jr., and Louis Begnel.

There was considerable conflicting testimony given during the trial. After the hearing of the testimony and the arguments by the attorneys the jury retired and after deliberating for two hours were unable to agree. The jury, it is understood was four for acquittal and two for conviction.

WILL INVESTIGATE TYPHOID CONDITIONS

Dr. H. B. Hemenway Here Representing State Department of Health.

Dr. H. B. Hemenway, representing the state department of public health, is in Jacksonville to make an investigation with reference to the typhoid fever situation. Dr. Hemenway, who is the acting chief of public health instruction, occasionally does work along epidemiologic lines and so was detailed to this city for the present investigation. According to the records which have been sent by the local health warden to the state department of health, there have been thirty-five or more cases of typhoid fever occurring here since the first of May. The number is so large that the attention of the state department has been attracted and Dr. Hemenway sent into the field to make investigation.

No Right to Have Typhoid.
Dr. Hemenway said last night that he would remain in Jacksonville until Monday and that if he had not concluded his investigation by that time that he would return at a later date.

"Have we many more cases than we are entitled to according to statistics?" the state specialist was asked. "You are not entitled to any" was the reply, "for typhoid fever is a communicable disease and a city where conditions are right does not have typhoid. Just what has caused so many cases here of course at this time is a matter of conjecture, and all that we can do is to make investigation and then follow leads which may indicate the source of the trouble."

"In Moline there have been many cases of typhoid fever, but part are paratyphoid cases. I am of the opinion that investigation will show here that some of the Jacksonville cases should have been so listed. The disease are similar but are not caused by the same germs. Under ordinary conditions paratyphoid fever cases are not as virulent as the regular typhoid disease."

Difficulties in Locating Cause.
"It is sometimes a very difficult matter to get at the exact cause of typhoid fever and a thorough sifting out process is necessary. I remember in one city where a typhoid epidemic had caused a disturbance it was shown by investigation that the disease was limited to the users of milk from two certain dairies. Then it was established that the two dairies bought milk from one farm. An inspection of the farm was made and the cattle, persons and equipment having to do with the dairy industry were all examined. No origin of the disease was thus located but subsequently the trouble was found to originate from an open vault located several hundred feet from the dairy farm."

"Generally speaking, in a community where pure water is available and where sewerage conditions are correct, there are no typhoid fever cases. It should be said that the prevalence of typhoid in a community is inextinguishable and the city which does its duty for its citizens provides conditions which make typhoid next to impossible."

Long Experience in Work.
Dr. Hemenway, who has had a large experience in the study of contagious diseases, has a list of typhoid cases which have occurred in Jacksonville during recent months and by consultation with physicians and nurses will today begin his investigation.

Dr. Hemenway has specialized in the study of public health, and his control and a pamphlet from his pen on this subject was recently issued by the Illinois department of public health. Dr. Hemenway has also made a special study of flies as a pest to health and his treatise on this subject has also recently come from the press for the department of public health. It is recognized that typhoid fever is very frequently spread by flies and that flies carry the infection of at least a dozen different diseases.

While Dr. Hemenway, as mentioned, has specialized somewhat along the lines indicated, he is just as well posted about typhoid fever and its cause and the state department is hoping that thru his investigation some line may be secured on local conditions which will make further spreading of the disease impossible.
